The DIMMER VIEW

Welfare Reform Wins Support

A couple of weeks ago one of our more respected legislators ground out a letter to the media commending the Plumas County Board of Supervisors for an "all-out attack on the current welfare system."

Friday, he became recipient of a type of welfare himself when the Legislators voted themselves a raise in pay to $23,232 a year.

They also voted to increase employer taxes by $600 million to keep the state's unemployment fund from going broke.

Afterwards they voted to increase maximum benefits for unemployed workers from $90 to $104 a week — a little more cushion, apparently, to make it unnecessary for those for whom welfare has become a way of life, to seriously seek employment.

Then the Legislature adjourned for a 15 week vacation.

For those who were not paying attention, the 15 weeks represents 28 per cent of a 52-week work year. That means they get paid for a full year but work 37 weeks of the year at $625 a week. Various holidays reduce their "productive" period even more. Thank goodness!

But back to the other form of welfare.

When Plumas County decided to stop paying the County's share of state and federally mandated social services as of July 1st this year, the State of California, faced with the possibility of losing all federal aid as a result of the Plumas decision, obtained a preliminary court injunction barring the County from discontinuing these services.

State thought it would be but a matter of time before public opinion would force the County to resume the burgeoning welfare system that had been nourished by liberals for more than 15 years.

But hundreds of letters from people throughout the country came to support the small, Northern California County's action, and most revealed a sense of resentment and distrust toward "welfare chiselers", "easy money", and the "dole." The nation's taxpayers seemed on the verge of revolt against a system designed to ease the burden on the poor, the disabled and the unemployed.

The problem is that many Americans feel the welfare system enables poor people to take a free ride on the bent shoulders of the beleaguered taxpayer. They want the system to work more efficiently. They want to be assured that those who receive aid deserve it.

Earlier this month a hearing was convened at the State Capital to discuss the Plumas matter under the auspices of the Assembly's Human Resources Subcommittee on Institutions of California Social Welfare Programs.

Testimony at the hearing showed that many of the programs are either not applicable to rural counties or that they require too much administrative red tape. State and federal laws require certain standards and procedures to be followed before money can be released to the county. For large, urban areas, these forms and services may make sense but for the small, rural county, with smaller tax base and fewer people, these rules cost thousands of dollars and hundreds of man-hours, with negligible results.

Plumas County officials had a proposal. It would allow the county to combine current programs into two "umbrella" agencies, thus cutting down on staffing and paperwork. They suggested eligibility based on a county-wide, rather than nation or statewide standard. They asked that the county be allowed to determine which programs are most needed instead of programs enforced by government agencies dominated by urban interests.

We think everyone agrees that we cannot allow people to live in abject poverty, with no hope of escape.

But the officials of Plumas County made it adamantly clear that unless changes are made, and made soon, the social welfare system in this country will come to a grinding halt.

The mutiny in Plumas County is just the tip of the iceberg. Federal and state officials, and the public, cannot afford to ignore the strong, grass-roots support for changes in our welfare system.

Smoking to be Costly

If you think your County Board of Supervisors have all its marbles try to understand its No Smoking ordinance that is now operational.

That date, incidentally, is the same date originally set up to bring the County Jail under their own purview by budgeting it over to the Probation Department under a newly formed alias — the Department of Corrections.

While there is smoke aplenty in the jail issue, it is about No Smoking that this material is directed.

The ordinance on No Smoking sets a pretty stiff cost for an infraction — $10 to $100.

The ordinance requires owners, operators, or managers of certain establishments to put up No Smoking signs in elevators, hallways of public buildings, health care facilities and on buses and in taxis. Signs are also required anywhere persons form a line for services. Two persons or more constitute a line.

Who do you think is responsible for enforcing this ordinance? It's the guy in charge — the owner, operator or manager. He must refuse to serve the smoker. If he does serve him, he can get the $10-$100 rap.

Can't you see this scene? Here's a guy in a hurry standing in line in a supermarket where the firm fires any employee who opens a checkout stand until it has at least 10, angry, overcharged customers. Several of the women ahead of him pay by check which requires the manager's approval. It takes time to find the manager and the woman has trouble finding her ID material. By the time the guy gets to the check-out point he's as nervous as a cat at mating season.

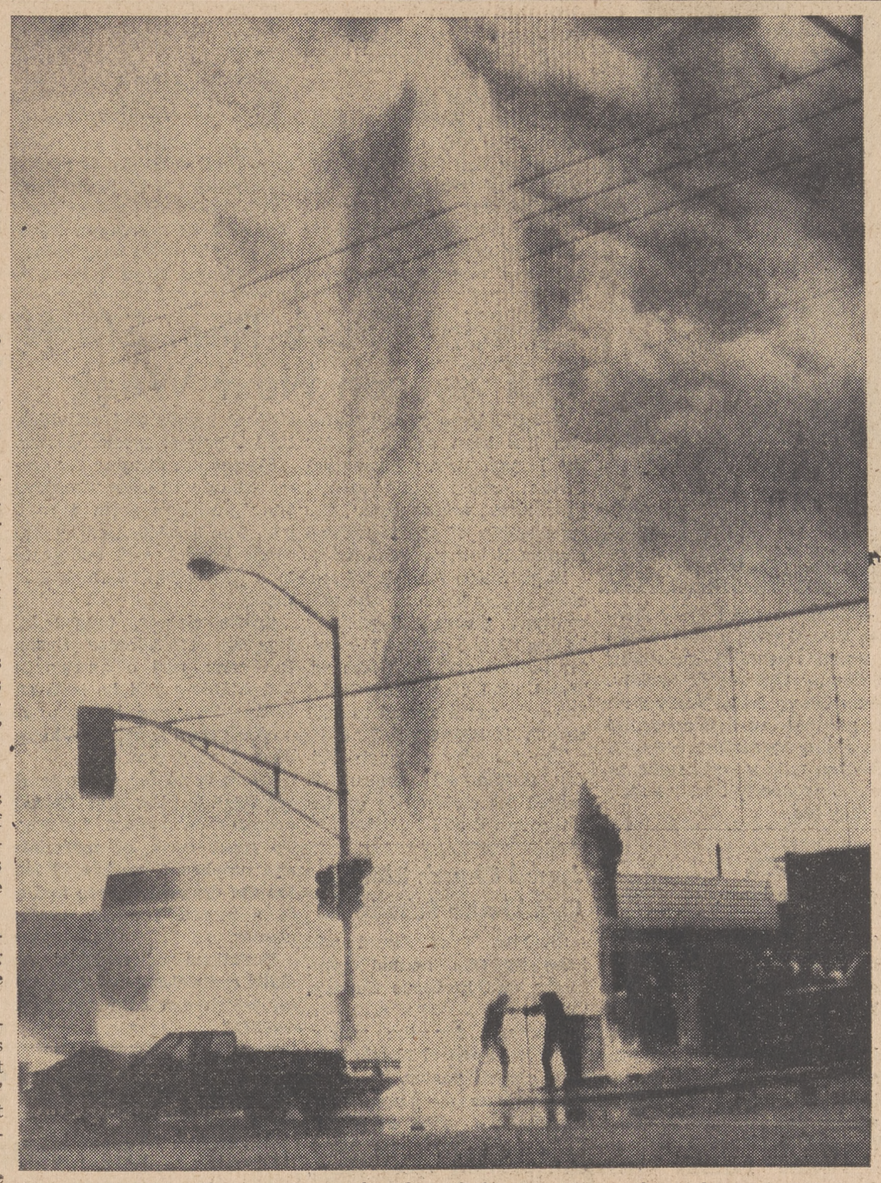
Subconsciously, he tucks a cigarette in his mouth. The check-out clerk says "We can't serve you, buddy!" If he does serve him he's guilty of an infraction. If he doesn't he's got an irate customer.

At that point there are all the ingredients for a good fight.

We think this ordinance is overkill. This writer is a non-smoker. Preference would be for no smoking altogether but it really isn't that big of a deal.

But making other than a law officer the enforcer sets up contention between citizens. That's a form of anarchy!

That smoking should be banned in certain places is a valid enough proposal. But making enforcers out of professional and business people is symbolic of the days of another generation in Europe where people were forced to be spies.



OLD FAITHFUL?— The towering gusher that turned many heads in Lemon Grove toward the intersection of Broadway and Buena Vista Monday afternoon was not the eruption of a natural spring, but the result of an auto accident. Failing to heed a stop light ,an auto struck another negotiating a left turn. The cars slid into the curb, knocking out a fire hydrant.
It took fire officials about 20 minutes to cut off the flow. The driver of the elusive vehicle received minor injuries.

CCEO Grants $9,800

Senior Hot Lunch Center Gains Satellite in So. Spring Valley

A grant of $9,800 from the County Charitable Employees Organization (CCEO), will permit the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Nutrition Project to expand with a satellite center in south Spring Valley.

CCEO is an established charitable agency which solicits funds for non-profit health and welfare agencies.

Project Manager Lynda Pfleuger said that the center —geared to serve nutritional, recreational and educational needs of older Americans—is moving forward on the Spring Valley branch and expects to open in late October serving 50 meals a day.

The CCEO grant hinges on a matching amount from the community, so a committee has been formed to work with Soroptimist International in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley in planning a year of fund raising.

Already scheduled are two spaghetti dinner, one tentatively scheduled for February 7 at the Lemon Grove VFW Hall and the other February 21 at a Spring Valley location to be announced.

New Center

Leasing arrangements were being finalized this week for a project site near the intersection of Grand and Jamacha blvd., according to Ms. Pflueger.

In addition to serving hot meals during lunch hour, the new center will extend all of the social services offered at the main location.

Services offered: information and referral via the community senior citizens' hot line — the center's number is 460-0430; receration in the form of outings, exercise and entertainment; education and nutritional, health and welfare counseling and a telephone reassurance service whereby a staff volunteer makes regular calls on registered individuals.

300 Members

The Lemon Grove center—serving both Lemon Grove and Spring Valley senior citizens — now has over 300 in the comprehensive program. Registration is an informal procedure and does not cost anything. The only charges are the suggested 50 cent donation for each hot meal and occasional expenses on outings.

Recent field trips nave included visits to the Hotel Del Coronado and a Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club-paid excursion on the Bahia Belle.

Social activities at the center are numerous. Every third Friday, members join for a party honoring three weeks of birthday celebrants. Games and card playing are regular activities and bingo is twice a month. The center is open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The educational program includes monthly visits by a public health nurse and a nutritionist.

The new Spring Valley center is expected to attract 125 to 150 new registrants and will be locally funded, at least through its first year of operation.

Federal grants from Title VII of the Older Americans Act — averaging $40,000 a year locally — finance the nutrition project in Lemon Grove. The center opened its doors in April 1974.

Lads Get in Trouble; Parents Get Reward

Youngsters can be cruel.

And parents can be mercenary.

At least that's the way it appeared when two young men on September 8, sneaked into the garden planted by Alex C. Krusesky, at 8346 Holt st. in Spring Valley where Krusesky was raising some extra large, rare variety of Mexican pumpkins that are salable, he says, for $20 each.

The youngsters smashed 10 of the largest ones. Krusesky offered a $50 reward for the apprehension of the perpetrators.

A woman on nearby Osage st. hearing about the offer, reported that her son was one of the culprits. Another neighbor, a man on Parkbrook, turned in his son also.

The two boys are in the hands of juvenile authorities and the two parents are whacking up the reward.

Enrollment at Schools on Par With Estimates

Early returns in local school district enrollment indicate that school board projections for the new year were generally accurate.

Lemon Grove School District's Tuesday enrollment was 3,542, almost identical with last year's start according to Dr. Robert Sutton, superintendent.

The kindergarten class was expected to level off in the district. Instead, 382 youngsters started school this year, up 20 from last year.

Golden Avenue school registered slightly more than anticipated, but not enough to pose serious staffing problems.

The La Mesa-Spring Valley District enrollment is already above projection. 13,129 were enrolled as of Monday. The projection was for 12,769.

Tuesday enrollment at Mount Miguel and Monte Vista High schools was running slightly below projections. Monte Vista students numbered 2281 and Mt. Miguel's 2350.

Enrollment at all school districts tends to peak in October.

Lemon Grove CoC Members Seek Group Insurance

Members of the board of directors of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting September 25, will discuss a low cost group insurance plan for its members.

Insurance brokers in the area are invited to present any plan they might have that would be adaptable to such a use.

The committee for studying such programs are Louis Dail, Jim Dorman and Wally Knutson. Knutson is chairman.

"The coverage would be only for those chamber members who desire it.

Such policies have been beyong the reach of small business men with limited personnel but as a group, under the umbrella of the chamber or similar organizations, there are programs now that are adaptable to his needs. People with these programs are those we want to see."

Knutson is available at 463-4466. Those who want to present a program may do so at the September 25 meeting.

Burglar's Loot Tops $2,000 Here

A burglar entered the residence of Phillip J. Love late last week and took belongings of his worth more than $2,000.

Love, who lives at 1759 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, said the theif scaled a 6-foot fence, entered a bedroom window after cutting a screen and took a .22 cal. carbine; a 12 gauge Winchester pump shotgun; a 20 gauge Remington pump shotgun; tape players, jewelry, leather coats, teevee, radio and ammunition for the guns.

Love was at work when the loss occurred.

Board Seeks Fine For Fire Starters

The Spring Valley Fire District Board of Directors have initiated a study of current legislation in an effort to fine parents of children who set grass fires.

A rash of calls to extinguish the fires plagues firemen in Spring Valley each week of the dry season.

Most are deliberately set by children playing with matches or other incendiary devices.

Yves Hebert, deputy county counsel, is studying existing law to determine if such fines are legally sanctioned. If not, the board plans to appeal to government representatives for legislation.

The California Division of Forestry levies fines for fire starters, scaled to family income. The Spring Valley Fire Board seeks a similar policy.

Noise Brings Cops to L.G. Party; 2 Arrested

There was a party on Alton pl. in Lemon Grove on August 29.

The party had been going on for quite a while.

Neighbors complained about the noise and the cops came about 5:30 a.m.

The strong odor of marijuana was evident, sheriff's deputies reported.

Inside the residence, at 2317 Alton pl., the odor was even stronger.

Four people was the source of the noise. Two of the four were responsible for the marijuana smoke. Further investigation turned up a marijuana patch in the back yard area. The plants were healthy ones; 6 to 24 inches tall — all 48 of them. There were items in the house that are valued in the use of marijuana.

Deputies filed felony marijuana charges against Marian Michelle Burton, 21, an unemployed dental assistant and Michael Lee West, 27, also unenployed, both of the 2317 Alton pl. address.

Charges were dropped against a La Mesa man, and one from Lemon Grove, both 22, who were participating in the party.

The Burton-West arraignment will be in El Cajon Municipal Court.

16,000 Scholarships and Grants Ready for Students

State scholarship and grant applications for the 1976-77 academic year are now available at the office of Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh.

The undergraduate awards, also available through the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, include the State Scholarship, College Opportunity Grant (COG) and the Occupational Education and Training Grant (OETG). A student can qualify in more than one category by filling out a single form.

"These programs were set up to aid people in attending college or securing vocational training," Deddeh said.

"Many people who thought they didn't have a chance have obtained awards in the past. This year nearly 13,200 State Scholarships, 3,100 COG's and 70 OETG's will be awarded throughout the State —16,000 in all," Deddeh said.

Filing deadline for the COG's and State Scholarships is December 6. Deadline for filing for the OETG's is February 27.

High School students and college freshmen, sophomores and juniors from low and middle income families are eligible for State Scholarships.

The scholarship provides tuition assistance at private two-year and four-year institutions and at public four-year colleges. It can be held in reserve for high school students wishing to initially attend community colleges.

COG's are awarded to high potential students who are generally, but not always, from minority/low income families. They are available to students who will have completed no more than one semester of college by June 1976.

The OETG's can be used at public community colleges or accredited vocational institutions. They are not available to students pursuing a four-year college program leading to a B.A. or B.S. degree.

School, Bank, Hens Make News 20 Years Ago

United States National Bank in Lemon Grove was paying special dividends to customers during a September heat wave that sent the mercury soaring to the 100-degree mark.

Bank Manager Arnholt Smith, Jr., instructed bank personnel to pass out ice cold cokes to all comers.

The bank, which opened for business in June, also was celebrating the installation of air conditioning that week.

The heat took its toll on a Skyline drive flock of laying hens. Something happened to the ventilation system in the coop and 200 hens perished in the intense heat. Sherman Martin, caretaker filling in for his vacationing grandfather, saved the remaining 400 by "turning the hose on 'em."

Grossmont Union High School District checked in with an opening-day enrollment figure of 5,088, up 600 from the previous year.

500 million children live on the narrow edge of starvation today, according to a UNICEF spokesman.

The Open House is held 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days and feautres posters, literature, brochures and other materials used in several UNICEF programs including the Hollowween "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" campaign.

Civic Theatre Opera Recital Features Duets

An all-operatic, all-duet program is scheduled for the San Diego Opera's Joan Sutherland-Richard Bonynge-Hueguette Tourangeau recital, Tuesday, September 23, at 8 p.m. in the Civic Theatre.

Bonynge said that the program has been specially selected for the San Diego recital and it will be performed for the first and only time this year for the San Diego audience.

Historic Women Gain Respect at Forum

Two historic women's reputations will be dredged up from the bowels of forgotten history and vindicated at the third of a series of feminist forums presented at the Center for Women's Studies and Services next week.

Marilyn Boxer, historian and chairwoman of the San Diego State University Women's Studies Program, will expose the truth by recreating the real lives of Emma Goldman and Rosa Luxemburg.

For years "Red" Emma Goldman has either been ridiculed or used as the "bogeyman" in bedtime stories, according to Ms. Boxer. Rosa Luxemburg was dismissed as an unimportant historical figure who was martyred for her cause.

The forums are alternating monthly political discussions and cultural experiences. Meeting place is 908 "F" st. in downtown San Diego, 7:30 p.m.

This Week's RECIPE

Mexican Sub Sandwich

Mexican Independence Day, September 16, adds a south-of-the border flair to the week. In keeping with the mood, this week's recipe calls for a collection of foods from the new world — corn, potatoes, chili peppers and avocado — combined together for a super sub sandwich that can serve up to five people.

MEXICAN SUBMARINE SANDWICH

2 medium potatoes, cooked and diced
1 large loaf French bread
3 tablepsoons cooking oil
2/3 cup chopped chorizo sausage
1 medium onion, chopped
1 egg, lightly beaten
Salt
Fresh ground pepper
1 cup shredded lettuce
¼ cup pimiento-stuffed olives, chopped
½ cup sour cream
1 can (16 oz.) refried beans
1 cup shredded Monterey Jack or Cheddar cheese

Cut loaf in half lengthwise. Partially hollow halves, reserving crumbs. Score top of loaf at 2½- to 3-inch intervals, being careful not to cut all the way through the bread. Wrap halves in foil; warm in low (200°) oven for 10 minutes.

Heat oil in large skillet. Add potatoes ,sausage, crumbs and onion. Season to taste. Saute mixture until lightly browned. Add egg and cook, stirring until set.

Toss lettuce and olives with sour cream. Heat refried beans.

Line bottom half of loaf with lettuce mixture. Layer beans, sausage mixture and cheese. Secure top with toothpicks. To serve, slice through at previously scored cuts.

Mariners Open Camp; Opener October 10

By Gabe DeNunzio

Twenty-seven players, including ten newcomers, begin workouts today as the World Hockey Assn. San Diego Mariner open preparations for the 1975-76 season. Last year 38 skaters turned out for camp. The roster will have been cut to 19 when the season opens October 10.

One-a-day drills will be held at the San Diego Mira Mesa House of Ice, to be used as the team's home rink during the upcoming campaign. Sessions will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

The Mariners made changes in both their defense and offense during the off-season in an attempt to challenge Western Division and AVCO Cup champion Houston.

Second Placers

San Diego won nine and tied one of its last 11 games in 1974-75 to grab second place and eventually move to the semi-finals of the post-season playoffs. Eight names from that team have been removed from the roster.

General manager-coach Ron Ingram will welcome a group that includes these skaters named to the WHA's all star squads, center Andre Lacroix, defenseman Kevin Morrison and right winger Wayne Rivers. Lacroix and Morrison were picked on the first team while Rivers was a third team selection.

Lacroix, all-time WHA scorer with 382 points in three years, captured the scoring crown with 147 points last season after winning in 1972-73 with 124 and finishing second in 1973-74 with 111.

All-League Winger

Rivers led all league right wingers with 107 points and his 54 goals were second only to Winnipeg's Bobby Hull while Morrison was the WHA's most productive defenseman with 81 points.

Ingram, elevated to his current position this season after starting in San Diego last year as director of player personnel and moving up to the general manager's role in January, will have three chances to see his forces under fire before the October 10 start of league action.

The Mariners have slated exhibition games in the Sports Arena against Phoenix, September 28, and Denver, October 2, and then journey to Tucson for a replay with Phoenix, October 6.

The Roster

Goaltender — Veteran Ernie Wakely is back after being purchased from Winnipeg midway through the season. He ended with a 3.25 goals against average, third best among WHA netminders.

Supporting him are Russ Gillow, last year's backup and extremely valuable in the stretch drive, and youngster Bob Blanchet, named the North American League's top goalie with a 2.93 average at Syracuse and a shutout winner in a trio of appearances with the Mariners.

Center — The incomparable Lacroix has been a first team all-star in each of the league's three terms and established WHA marks with his total points, 106 assists, 16 consecutive games with assists and 32 consecutive games scoring last year.

Consistent Adduono

Ray Adduono was the team's most consistent performer in the playoffs and is back for a second varsity stint after an outstanding minor league career. His 74 points was sixth best in final Mariner statistics.

Michel Rouleau, out with nagging injuries much of the year after his mid-season purchase from Michigan, is a prime contender for the third center spot along with Dave Walter, a team scoring leader with 80 points at Long Island of the NAHL.

The Mariners may have depth problems here and much could depend on Rouleau's health.

Right Wing — Rivers is coming off his finest season and, together with Lacroix and left winger Rick Sentes, helped form the WHA's second highest scoring line in 1974-75.

Captain Ferguson

Team captain Norm Ferguson is one of the team's surest goal scorers and is fresh from pouring in 36 markers with 33 assists.

The third right wing place is open to Joe Noris, 61 points with Syracuse of the American League, John Saynak, 37 goals and 75 points with NAHL Syracuse, rookie Alex Tidey, 96 points with Lethbridge in the Western Canada League, and strong Jamie Bateman who divided time between San Diego and NAHL Syracuse a year ago.

Left Wing — Don Burgess, taken in an off-season deal with Calgary, is the heir-apparent on the Lacroix-Rivers-Sentes line that saw the latter traded to Calgary in a separate move. Burgess has 61 goals in three WHA seasons.

Gene Peacosh put in 43 goals and had 79 points for San Diego and is bidding for a repeat effort while popular Brian Morenz, second-year man Kevin Devine, and Bill Goldthorpe and Lee Inglis, both with WHA experience, all are in contention for the third line job.

Defense Looks Good

Defense — Possibly the team's best area. Gone are former player-coach Harry Howell, whose contract was not renewed, and Ron Plumb, on a one-year loan last season from new league entry Cincinnati.

To replace them, San Diego has signed veteran Brent Hughes, assistant captain with the National League Kansas City Scouts last year, and offensive-minded Mike McMahon from the Minnesota Fighting Saints.

Wall Well

This duo goes with all-star Morrison, steady Bob Wall, out for 45 games with a compressed vertebra in 1974-75, returnee Bob Falkenberg, hip-checking Jim Hargreaves, picked up in mid-season from Indianapolis, and rookie Rick Lalonde from Calgary in the WCHL.

In addition to Sentes, Howell and Plumb, others not returning are wingers Ted Scharf, Brian Bradley and Brian Perry and centers Joe Hardy and Mike Laughton.

Mariner fans are apparently pleased with last year's performance and the team's dealings in the summer. Season ticket sales are almost doubled over the 1974-75 total and prospects are for a healthy increase over the first year crowd average of 6,008. The Arena seats 13,039 for hockey.

Revenge Motive in Aztecs Game Against 'Mean Green'

A year ago San Diego State's football game against North Texas State was a disaster — this year it's a Montezuma's Revenge Game.

The Aztecs will try to get revenge for a 14-9 upset loss to the Mean Green last year when San Diego State hosts North Texas State Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in San Diego Stadium.

Saturday is also Poster Night with 10,000 posters being given away at the Stadium.

A year ago the Aztecs traveled to Denton, Texas with a 5-1 record and were ranked 18th in the nation. North Texas State was 1-5-1 and struggling. The Mean Green sprung a trap, however, and upset the Aztecs. The loss dropped the Aztecs out of the top 20 in the nation and also took them out of any post season bowl pictures.

Even Steven

Both teams come into this year's game with 2-0 records. North Texas State beat Texas (Arlington) 27-14 in its opener and topped Drake 7-3 last week.

San Diego State beat Texas (El Paso) 31-10 in its opener and blanked Oregon State 25-0 last week.

The Mean Green had 225 yards total offense against Drake with 200 rushing and 25 passing. North Texas State recovered four Drake fumbles, but missed scoring opportunities on a dropped touchdown pass, a missed fourth down try and a missed field goal. The Mean Green threw only seven passes in the game and all came in the first half.

Last Week

Last week the Aztecs completely dominated Oregon State in blanking the Beavers 25-0. Oregon State gained only 55 yards rushing on 45 tries. The Aztecs sacked Beaver quarterbackes seven times with nose tackle Mike Gilbert getting three of those.

For the Aztecs it was their first shutout victory in 21 games, but for Oregon State it was the first time they had been shutout in 60 games. Stanford was the last to blank the Beavers at 33-0 in 1969.

"This game just shows you what can happen when you want something bad enough," said Aztec coach Claude Gilbert. "All the credit has to go to the players and coaches. I was occupied all week with eligibility problems and my coaches did a tremendous job preparing the team. This was not an easy win for us, but I think we were so well prepared that we made it look easier than it was.

Next Week

"As for North Texas State —we want to win just like any other game. We underestimated them last year and they trapped us. They deserved to win that game. We didn't play well and they took advantage of it. This year's team has too much character, I think, to underestimate a team and we'll go after North Texas and try to make up for that loss."

S.V. Racer's Lead Grows As Cajon Races Near End

Time is running out for Tim Biggers and his Chevy-powered super stock at Cajon Speedway.

Only three races are left for the El Cajon insulation installer to catch his Spring Valley rival Pat McIntyre. After setting fast time last week, Biggers had hoped to cut McIntyre's point lead, but a lap-14 pileup in the big 40-lap main event sent him to the pits. He has 2665 points.

McIntyre, a Spring Valley building contractor with 3125 points, was able to take full advantage of Bigger's bad luck as he placed third behind Ron and George Esau to widen his point lead to 460 points.

Saturday night at Cajon Speedway Biggers must get some breaks or his chance for the championship may well end.

Sixty super stocks will be on hand to battle for the money and the top 20 qualifying positions in the 40-lap feature.

Seven Mains

McIntyre has seven main event wins this season, but has been shut out the last three weeks as Larry Hageman, Ted Kallos, and young Ron Esau found the groove. Hageman and Esau are battling for third spot in the points race and are swapping that position almost weekly.

In addition to the 40-lapper, an all-female Grand Prix is carded with Joy Swentkofske and Barbara Baxter battling for the championship. Baxter placed ahead of Swentkofske in last week's race and still has hopes for the title.

Qualifying for the nine event show will be at 6:30 with the traditional trophy dash for the four fastest qualifiers pushed off at 8:00, leading up to the finales, four 8-lap heats will be run as well as the 10-lap consolation and the 20-lap semi.

Champions to Clash In Ontario Climax

The perennial battle for the American Motorcycle Assn's. Grand National Championship between Californians, Kenny Roberts (from Villa Park) and Baldwin Park's Gary Scott looks like it's having its climax in the very last race of the season . . . the Champion Spark Plug Motorcycle Classics at Ontario Motor Speedway on October 4th and 5th.

Roberts, the Yamaha factory team leader, has captured the title for the past two seasons while Scott has occupied the Cinderella runner-up spot for no less than three years in succession.

This year, however, things are different. Scott, on an all-American Harley-Davidson team bike, holds the points advantage and midway through the year seemed uncatchable.

Indianapolis Mile

The tenacious Roberts, however, had other ideas. He closed the point gap with a win in the recent Laguna Seca road race (only other West Coast road race of the year in the Camel Pro series tour) and then pulled a masterful surprise win out of the bag on the Indianapolis mile dirt-track recently.

One reason for Scott's lead is the horsepower advantage that his Harley enjoys over Roberts' Yamaha dirt-trackers but for the Indy mile Kenny had one of his 120bhp four-cylinder water-cooled road race engines shoehorned into a flat-track frame and snatched the win in the last few feet of the very last lap!

Several of the monster Yamaha fours (which will be running 180mph in road race guise at Ontario) showed up at Indy but Roberts was the only rider capable of mastering one. And even he admitted to being "scared stiff" of the awesome horsepower on a loose-surface dirt-track.

Two Prior Dates

Prior to the Champion Spark Plug Motorcycle Classics there are two more mile dirt track events where Kenny will have to screw up his courage and try and white-knuckle the beast to more valuable points.

If he can do this and continue to whittle down the margin between Scott and himself, then the odds are on a three-in-a-row Championship streak for the 23-year old star.

Yamaha's road racing machinery is currently on top and Roberts has the talent to wring every last ounce of speed out of the streamlined projectiles.

The Champion Spark Plug Motorcycle Classics will feature two days of International road racing with stars from nine countries clashing in both the Lightweight (250cc) race and the big one of the weekend . . . the Formula 750 race, that will be run in two 100 mile segments.

Confirmed entries have been received from all of the American factory team plus World 250cc Champion, Walter Villa, who is flying in to spearhead the Harley-Davidson team alongside Gary Scott.

Midgets, Figure 8's, Sprints on Race Card

GARDENA — One of the most unusual racing weekends ever held at Ascot Park will be displayed Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights with the United States Racing Club Midgets, the Figure-8 Auto Racing Stock Cars, and the Southern California Independent Drivers Assn. sprint buggies and baja sedans.

On Friday night, the USRC midgets will engage in a very unusual racing program on a specially-prepared road course. With Long Beach having a road course in the streets, a road course inside the Gardena half-mile dirt oval for midgets is also a unique idea that Ascot president Johnny Parsons, a former midget champion, has been attempting to try for many years.

Leading the midget contingent will be young Larry Patton of Anaheim, who still holds down third in the USAC midget standings after competing for less than half a season.

On Saturday night, the Figure-8 stocks will be competing in the first "World Championship Figure-8 500" on the wild crisscross course. Some 100 cars will be participating in the first ever 500-lap Figure-8 event.

Twenty teams will be set up with five cars on each team and only one car per team is allowed on the track at one time. If a car is crashed or breaks, his teammate will replace him on the track.

On Sunday night the SCIDA sprint buggies and baja sedans along with the street stocks will be competing in a double-header program.

Roy Storey, Hockey Voice, At Lions Tonight

Roy Storey, voice of the Mariners hockey team, will be speaker tonight at the regular meeting of the Lemon Grove Lions club. The club meets in Casa de Oro at the Ox Bow Inn at 7 p.m.

Storey is one of the more sought-after speakers in the San Diego area. He was formerly sports director of radio KNX in Los Angeles and coined the slogan "L.A., Sports Capital of the World." It is now used by the L.A. Times.

He is co-founder of the L.A. County Sportscasters Assn. and was himself a racer who drove the first Corvette in the sports car races at various tracks in California.

He broadcast the World Hockey League Kings games out of Los Angeles and announced several tousand big league baseball games of of San Francisco including the Game of the Day play over KYA.

He also called games for the NFC San Francisco 49'ers.

But hockey is his love. "It's the uninihibited sport of the 70's," he says.

His calling of the WHL Mariners games is one of the reasons for the growing popularity of the team.

Ziegenfuss Gets Net Help From Top Track Star

Mission Viejo host pro Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego has turned to one of the world's best long jumpers for help with her tennis game in preparation for the Mission Viejo Women's Tennis Classic September 29-October 5.

Ziegenfuss, who reached the third round of the recently completed U. S. Open at Forest Hills, N.Y., rejoined the Women's Tennis Assn. fall tour this week after three days of intensive training with Henry Hines, International Track Assn. star, former NCAA indoor champion and one of the handful of athletes who have bettered 27 ft. indoors.

Ziegenfuss trained in Sarasota, Fla., who three other women pros expected to play at Mission Viejo, Ilana Kloss and Laura Rossouw of South Africa and Ingrid Bentzer of Sweden, under Hines' direction.

Hines' interest in helping women players developed during the Virginia Slims Championships at Los Angeles last April. He had up to that time worked only with men on the pro circuit. Hines' most notable success was the star he first began working with, Wimbledon winner — Arthur Ashe.

Ziegenfuss is one of the 56 players who will compete in the $50,000 event at Mission Viejo. The field is headed by Chris Evert and the celebrated Czechoclovakian defector, Martina Navratilova.

Tickets are on sale at all Ticketron outlets throughout Southern California.

9 to Go for Padres in '75

The San Diego Padres will say goodbye to long bumpy plane rides and living out of a suitcase for another season in the next few days as the club winds up the final road trip of the 1975 campaign and prepares to begin the last homestand of the year.

The Padres, who were idled today, will complete the travel portion of the schedule with three games against the Giants in San Francisco over the weekend, September 19-21.

Then, it'll be homeward bound as the club returns immediately to open up the final homestand of the season with the Los Angeles Dodgers, Monday through Wednesday, September 22-24. The Padres will then close out the season with four games with San Francisco in San Diego Stadium, September 25-28.

"It promises to be an exciting finish to the season," said Padre manager John McNamara. "We've been slowly pecking away at the lead San Francisco had over us for that third place spot and it looks like we'll go right down to the wire much as we expected.

First Division

"Seven of our last 10 games are with the Giants and if we can at least take the series from them in San Francisco, then I believe we'll have an excellent shot of catching them and finishing up in the first division."

That indeed would be quite an accomplishment for the club since the first six years of its existence, the team finished in the National League's Western Division cellar and there were few "experts" who picked them for anything but the same this time around.

"We're feeling pretty confident we can catch the Giants," the Padre skipper said. "It's just a matter of being right with them when we go into those final 10 games. If we are, then I think the upper hand lies with us."

The upper hand could very well be in the fact that four of those last seven games with San Francisco are in San Diego and the Padres own a 7-4 edge in the season series between the two clubs.

The Padres last meetings with both the Giants and Dodgers were a couple of months back. Going into the final two weeks of the year, the Padres hadn't played the Dodgers since July 2 and the Giants since June 25. The bulk of the entire 18-game season series with San Francisco was crammed into the first nine days of the campaign and the last 10. The two clubs met six times in the first nine games and are scheduled to meet seven times in the final 10.

Win String Snaps For Griffs at 17

Grossmont College's 17-game football unbeaten streak is now history.

The Griffins lost their 1975 season opener to visiting Arizona Mesa College, 16-14, last Saturday before an estimatde 6,500 fans in Aztec Bowl.

It was a heart-breaker for coach Dave Jordan's Griffins at the Thunderbirds scored nine points in the final 74 second of the game. Mesa's hero was wide receiver Mickey Hatcher as he caught a 61-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Oscar Ramirez with 1:14 remaining to cut the lead to 14-13. A two-point conversion try failed.

An onside kick try with 1:01 to play worked. Hatcher's 42-yard field goal won the game for Mesa with just five seconds left.

Grossmont's next game is against Southwestern College in Chula Vista Sept. 27. The Apaches won their season-opener 23-14 over Antelope Valley.

Volvo Burglarized

Edward Keith Alvarado of 544 Conception ave., Spring Valley, parked his Volvo in his driveway and went to bed last Tuesday evening.

In the morning his car was there but missing were tools, speakers, a camera, a surfboard and a wetsuit.

The value of the items, he says, is $340.

Del Mar Track Wraps-up Record-Breaking Season

DEL MAR — Records were established in every major category as Del Mar completed its greatest season of Thoroughbred racing in history during the 1975 43-day season which ended last week on Wednesday.

Pari mutuel handle for the 43-day summer season totaled a record $80,320,535, representing an increase of 15.3% over 1974, previously Del Mar's best season. Daily average handle was $1,867,919, also a record.

Attendance for the meeting was a record 685,450 for a daily average of 15,941 and this represented an increase of 9.7% over '74 figures.

Starting with 1970 when the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club assumed management of the seaside track on a 20-year lease from the State of California, pari mutuel handle has risen a phenomenal 94%, while attendance has increased 69%.

Mutuel handle marks also were registered during the season for the exacta, daily double, single race and single day total.

Top Winners Listed

The business of the track is racing and in that category the Elmendorf runners won a second straight title in the Del Mar owner standings with $122,140 in earnings during the 43-day season.

The Elmendorf total fell short of last season's record accumulation of $137,490, but was far ahead of second place Pearson's Barn with $88,935.

Two-year-old Queen To Be was the top earner for the Elmendorf string, banking $74,155 with victories in the Del Mar Debutante and Sorrento Stakes. Other significant runners for trainers Ron McAnally and Vincent Clyne were Fair Test, Announcer and Pocket Park.

Pearson's Barn saw most of its earnings accumulated by Rancho Bernardo Handicap and Osunitas Stakes winner Mama Kali and Graduation Stakes and Del Mar Futurity runner-up Lexington Laugh.

Successful summers by turf stars Zanthe and Buck Price boosted Martin Ritt into third on the owner roster with $68,625, while Telly's Pop's Futurity victory placed Howard Koch and Telly Savalas fourth in the standings with $66,275.

Rounding out the top five was the partnership of Jaime Contreras, James Mamakos and Marcello Stubrin, whose prime runner was Del Mar Handicap winner Cruiser II. Their runners earned $64,025.

Completing the top ten were B. J. Ridder, $62,120; Heardsdale, $50,775; Joseph Morjoseph, $45,750; Burt Bacharach, $44,975; and Aaron U. Jones, $36,350.

Lobos Trounce Roses In Women's Grid Play

The score was 58-0.

As football games go, it wasn't a very artistic game—even for women players.

The unbeaten Lobos used second string players much of the time but they appeared bored with the proceedings as they stumbled and fumbled through a cool, overcast afternoon Sunday at Mesa College bowl.

Lobos opponents, the San Gabriel Roses—nee Mustangs—appeared to be untrained and out of condition. This may have been because it was the Roses' first game of the season — they having undergone a change of name and ownership as the season started.

The lopsided score made it uncertain whether the Lobos' offense was that good or the Roses' defense was that bad. But it worked out all right for the Lobos..

It should be noted that this, the Lobos fourth effort of the season, nowhere approximated the quality of previous games. They are better skilled and disciplined than the haphazard play they exhibited Sunday.

Place Kicker

A pleasant suprise for the Lobos was the unveiling of a place kicker. Diane Pewtress kicked three field goals and ran one. It was her first time at the assignment.

Lobos receivers dropped five passes or the score might have been higher.

The Lobos meet the Columbus Pacesetters in a Saturday game. The Pacesetters, with a record of 0-3-1, doesn't look formidable. Kickoff time is 1:30 as usual.

Standings in Womens Professional Football League:

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

There are some folks that have to try to improve perfection. You can just see them in your mind's eye, snipping away at Saint Peter, as they pass through the Golden Gates.

"And, what did you do on earth, sir?" will inquire St. Pete.

"I was an honest politician," will answer Mr. Perfect.

"Oh, a minority. Anything else?"

"I saved San Diego from nudity."

"But did you do anything important?" will insist St. Pete.

"I never went to any "X" rated movie, I battled against that evil place called Black's Beach where sinful people went around in the nude, I went to church every week and I voted the straight Republican ticket all my life."

"Well, I guess you can come in," St. Pete'll drawl swinging the gate open. "But you're gonna be surprised at how many Democrats we got up here. And another thing. Except for gate duty, we don't wear robes in the summertime."

"Wait a minute," says Mr. Perfect. "You have a squeak in your left gate . . . a little WD-40 will fix that up in no time . . . your cloud is dirty and your halo could use a good shining. Are you sure this is heaven?"

"It was until now," St. Pete will have to say. "But anybody who could find fault with the beauty and charm of Black's Beach will undoubtedly find fault up here. You'll have this place like that other one in no time."

Beaching, sunning and surfing are part of the blessing of San Diego. Folks from all over dream all year of coming here and doing for two weeks what we do all the time. In a few short months folks back in Chicago, Detroit and Buffalo (to name a few of the world's great dumping grounds) will be hip deep in ice and snow and all but locked inside for the winter.

What they wouldn't give to live in San Diego. "It's a heaven on earth," they day dream as passing autos splash slush over their galosh tops and the wind whips slivers of frozen air through their great coats.

"No, it's not quite heavenly, and it won't be as long as we permit people to do what they want to do," insist those who think bare is bad and one should be properly ashamed of his (or her) person. They just ignore facts.

Black's Beach, the only optional swim suit beach in California, is inadequate to its demand and ill-prepared for its popularity.

The only access to the 900 feet of "legal" bare beach front is down a sheer cliff of 400 feet. Non-mountain climbers are in jeopardy of life and limb climbing up or down. And 10,000 folks visit every weekend.

The only other way to the beach is through the very exclusive residential area along La Jolla Farms and Blackgold roads. Residents there are up in arms over beach-goers parking in their petunia patches, plugging up both sides of the street and taking short cuts through their back yards.

Right is on their side in this issue. All three of 'em; civil, personal and property. Why, I'd shoo 'em off with a shotgun if it was me.

The Nude Beaches Committee wants better access to Black's Beach, and extension of the 900 feet of legal beach front and additional optional swim suit beaches made available to them. The got a lot of buff.

County officials say there ain't no place for nude bathing anywhere along the miles of beach they control and some folks in the city want to shut down Black's Beach on religious and moral grounds.

For the record, Black's regulars are among San Diego's best beach citizens in conduct, cleanliness and courtesy. Ask the cops or lifeguards.

Also for the record, there is space for parking at the glider port, and the city would probably realize enough revenue from paid parking alone to pay for access roads, rest rooms and other normal beach facilities. That's right . . . it could pay its own way. Those are the bare facts, babe.

Of course, that would be the intelligent thing to do and will therefore be rejected out of hand by those we see it as their righteous duty to veil buff bathers everywhere . . . at the beach or in the tub.

And when these righteous folk pass on to their reward, they'll probably be the ones to take a little WD-40 with them. Heaven help ol' St. Peter.

Super Bowl Steelers Here For Chargers Opener Sunday

Practice is over and the Run for the Roses starts Sunday at 1 p.m. when the Chargers clash with the Pittsburgh Steelers at the Stadium.

The Steelers, floating with the Super Bowl trophy, may be the most formidable opponent of the season. But if the Steelers are better than the rest, the difference is only a shade. After Sunday come the Houston Oilers, Oakland Raiders, Los Angeles Rams and Kansas City Chiefs.

The prospects of opening against Pittsburgh was not at all comforting to Head Coach Tommy Prothro, "I'd rather play Pomona High school," he admitted.

The Chargers have never beaten Pittsburgh in regular and two preseason games. The Chargers are 9-6 in openers. Last year it was Oilers 21-4 at Houston. The Chargers' latest opening day victory was over Kansas City 21-14 in 1971.

Of the 43 players listed on the roster, no more than 23 were listed for the opener a year ago. Seven drafted rookies, NFL rookie Booker Brown and free agent Dwight McDonald are among the 23.

The Steelers will start with the same 22 (less those injured) players who beat the Vikings in the Super Bowl 16-6. Steelers' coach Chuck Noll was Chargers defensive coach 1960-1965.

Sunday's game will be broadcast on KSDO by Andy Musser and Dick Van Raaphorst. Reserved seats are still available despite the heaviest advance sale of the year.

Last week San Diego played the Vikings to a 14-14 overtime tie. Quarterback Jesse Freitas played the second half and overtime. Virgil Carter quarterbacked the first. Then he went in as running back during overtime.

Linebacker Ken Hutcherson joined the Chargers two days before the game and played most of the five quarters in the middle due to injuries to other players. In spite of only two days of practice time he made 17 tackles, 13 unassisted, deflected two passes and recovered a fumble.

Charger Backers pre-home game luncheon will be Friday at the Hanalei hotel in Mission Valley. Coach Prothro will be in attendance.

The Chargers will face the Oilers at Houston at the Astrodome the following Sunday.

50¢ Charger Bus

San Diego Transit buses will service Sunday's Chargers/Steelers game with special routes to and from the stadium. Local residents can pick up the special beginning at 11:30 a.m. at College Grove Shopping Center, adjacent to College Grove drive.

Fare is 50 cents per trip and riders may board regular bus lines and transfer to the pick up point without additional charge.

Rec. Dist. Lists School Gym Hours

The Spring Valley Recreation District announced fall dates for use of Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista gyms.

Mt. Miguel; 6-10 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays; 1-9 p.m. Saturdays and Sunday.

Monte Vista: 7-9:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays with volleyball on Thursday.

Girl Wrestlers Coliseum Card

Girl wrestlers will go at it Tuesday at the San Diego Coliseum.

Donna Christatelo, of Chicago, ranked among the tops in her field, will be challenged by Vicki Williams of Seattle.

Also on the card is a tag team match with Gordman and Goliath working against the Infernos.

Three other matches make up the program.

Doors open at 6:30. Action begins at 7:30.

There is a door prize every week. Last week a teevee was won by a native of Guam who now lives in San Diego.

2-Day Rodeo at National City

A two-day rodeo is scheduled this weekend when National City's 8th Annual Spurs 'N Saddle event gets under way at 8 p.m. Saturdy at at Kimball Park, 14th and D streets.

Closing performances will be at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Bareback riding, saddle bronc, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, team roping and girls' barrel races are programmed.

The Hardin Family, of Bakersfield, will present three rodeo acts. Four youngsters in the family range in ages 9 to 19.

Proceeds from the rodeo support the town's youth activities.

'Battle Royal' is Wrestling Card

Wrestling returns to the Sports Arena Saturday night in the shape of a 14-man "Battle Royal" stemming from 7 elimination bouts.

Entries are: Inferno II, Hiroshima, Choi Sun, Raul Matta, The Butcher, Reno Tuufulu and Black Gordman.

Also: The Fabulous Aussie, Frank Hester, Mickey Doyle, Billy Rogers, The Great John L., The Outlaw and Bengali.

Doors open at 6:30. The show starts at 7:30. Parking is free.

St. Augustine-Uni High To Meet for Charity

Saturday, Setptember 27 will be the big night for members of St. Augustine and University High school football teams.

At 8 p.m. in the Aztec Bowl, located on the San Diego State campus, the two clubs will continue an intense rivalry that has been a tradition for the last ten years.

From a financial point of view, the game will be as important to the schools as it is to the players. Proceeds from the game will aid the sports and education programs of the two schools as well as offer financial aid to Rosary High and Our Lady of Peace Academy.

Tickets are on sale for the game at all four schools. Adult admission is $3 and students will be admitted for $2. Students are selling tickets for the game and every effort will be made to sell out the 14,000 seat Aztec Bowl.

Information on tickets can be obtained by calling University High school at 298-8277.

The Charity Bowl fills the financial gap created when night football was removed from the local high school football schedules. By playing only day games, most parents and friends could not attend and crowds dropped accordingly.

Catholic schools, unlike city schools, do not have funds on which they can draw to help support their sports program. As a result, the Charity Bowl was created to raise the needed monies.

4-Day Thunderbird Event Climax in Sunday Races

The national hydroplane champion will be crowned Sunday following the unlimited hydroplane races which start at noon on Mission Bay.

Admission is free but a $4 parking charge will be made. Fiesta Island is the best place from which to watch the event. It can be reached from Sea World drive.

Entered in the race is Bill Muncey of San Diego, the winningest hydorplane racer in the world.

Tests and qualifying events will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday 7 a.m.-5 p.m.

On Sunday, heats will be run starting at noon.

At 3:30 the Consolation Race is scheduled followed by the Weisfield Trophy event at 4. Trophy presentation will be made at 5 followed by a barbecue dinner in the pits at 5:30.

Sunday's schedule:

6 a.m. Parking lots open.
7—Pits open
8 'til noon — Guided pit tours open to the public.
11—Air show over course
11:30—11th Naval District show. Water ski performances.

Open Housing Workshop Scheduled in La Mesa

An open housing seminar sponsored by the La Mesa oard of Realtors, the Heartland Human Relations Assn., and the La Mesa Community Relations Advisory is set for Thursday, September 25.

It will be the first time the three agencies have ever jointly sponsored an event. The workshop, subtitled "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Racial Steering But Were Afraid to Ask", will be held 9-12 at the American Legion Hall, 8118 University, La Mesa. It is open to the public. Admission is $2.

Laws Complex

The workshop is designed to explain the complex laws pertaining to racial steering, which is the illegal practice of showing white customers homes in white neighborhoods only, and minority customers homes in integrated or black neighborshoods only.

The highlight of the seminar will be a talk by Joseph Battle of Cleveland, on racial steering followed by small group discussions and a question and answer session.

Battle, a black realtor, has lived in the prestigious neighborhood of Shaker Heights since 1959. He belongs to the National Assn. of Realtors and the National Equal Opportunity Commission. He is also director of the Urban League's Housing Program.

This seminar is a result of the housing audit conducted in the summer of 1974 by the Heartland Human Relations Assn. Members of the planning committee are Vincent Odom, president of the La Mesa Board of Realtors, Jim Mitchell, owner of Red Carpet Realty, Don Smith, partner of Smith-Davis and Assocs., Diana Drake and Lee Walters of Century 21 Adventure, Jo Ann Smith, Sylvia MacLeod, Altha Williams and Babs Davies, of La Mesa Community Relations groups, and John Fitch, personnel director, City of La Mesa. The First California Title Co. is partially funding the seminar.

Public Broadcast Raises $34,450

1,759 new members and $34,452 has been raised to support public broadcasting in San Diego — the KPBS stations — as a result of the Summer Membership Drive which ended recently.

Of the PBS stations participating in the drive, KPBS is tenth in the nation in dollars pledged, and 9th in the number of pledges, in spite of being 32nd in market size and carrying a UHF signal, according to Bob Myers, Director of Development.

San Diegans pledged a minimum of $15 per year for support of the non-profit, noncommercial station, and Myers reports two donations received: one of $500 and one of $1,000.

The summer drive began with the Friday night screenings of Ingmar Bergman's films, one of which is being shown each week through mid-December.

Fewer Tourists, More Dollars

Tourists poured $1.07 billion "new" dollars into the Southern California economy during the first six months of 1975, reports the Southern California Visitors Council, setting an all-time spending record.

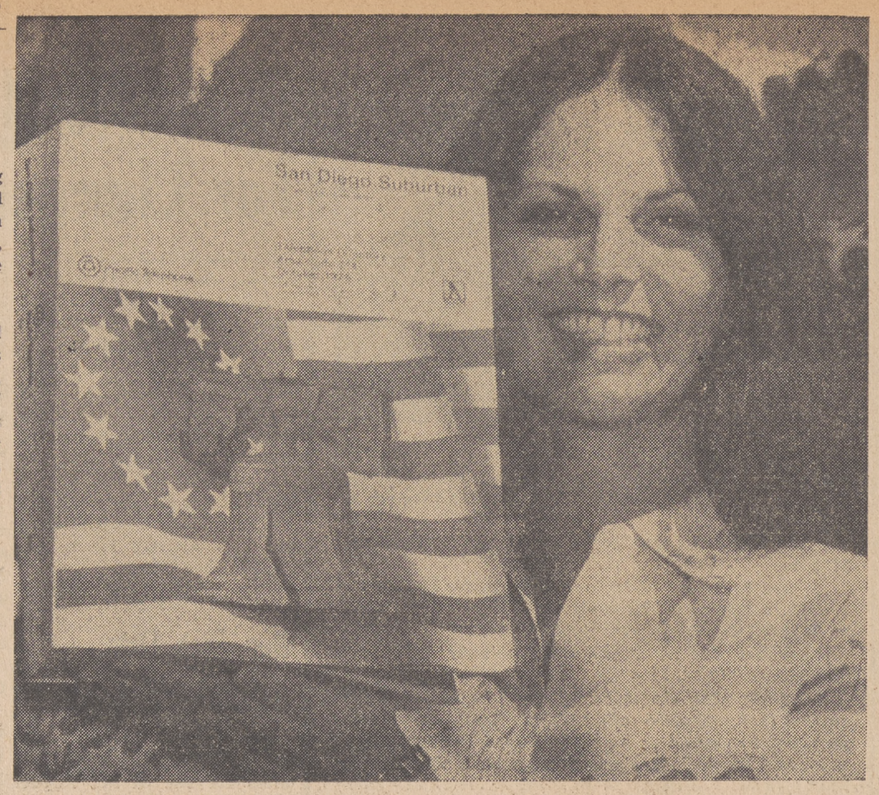
But the outlook for the Southland's third largest industry isn't entirely rosy.

Tourist numbers declined in that period 1.8 per cent. The spending increase of 4.2 per cent stems largely from inflation.

Food is Loot in S.V.

Food valued at $37 was taken from the garage at the home of Bernice Lorene Noble at 1259 Darby st., Spring Valley.

The loss occurred sometime before 11:30 p.m. last Monday, she told sheriff's deputies. The thief entered the garage through an open rear door.



NEW PHONE BOOKS — Barbara Hoyle of La Mesa displays the new San Diego Suburban telephone directory being delivered this week to East County residents. All Pacific Telephone directories in the state carry the Bicentennial salute — a full-color photograph of a replica of the Liberty Bell superimposed on a 13-star American flag. The salute is a departure from Pacific Telephone's standard procedure of selecting cover subjects which reflect the regions in which they are distributed.

Chacon Wants Public's Help On Future Transportation

Ideas on public transportation — its shape, form and style — are encouraged by Assemblyman Peter Chacon, in whose district most readers reside.

Said Chacon, "Input and recommendations will certainly assist me in making the best decisions representing my district."

"I encourage everyone to share ideas on transportation alternatives with me."

He can be reached at his office — 263-2148 or by letter at 5106 Federal blvd., suite 207, San Diego, 92105.

Chacon's plea:

How will we get to work or to our favorite recreation areas in the future? Will it be by car, bus, airplane, monorail, bicycle or some other means?

The State Legislature in examining a plan for future transportation choices for Californians, will soon be debating these questions.

The 1972 Legislature passed a bill to restructure the transportation system across the State.

Alternatives Needed

Growing awareness of the environmental and limited energy resources problems related to modern transportation, coupled with the feeling that continued emphasis on auto and air travel would not meet the need of many Californians, led to the search for alternatives to our present system of moving people and goods.

The 41 regional transportation agencies in the State were asked to develop plans reflecting goals and objectives of local areas. The State Department of Transportation was authorized to correct these plans and, by combining them with statewide goals, to compile the California Transportation Plan, a guide for the development of transportation for the next two decades.

Shortage of Wheels

In dealing with mobility on a State level, the Department found that more than 40% of the population, including the young, poor, handicapped and elderly, were totally or partially without access to automobiles. The Department also concluded that future land use decisions should be tied to transportation planning.

Four options are included in the draft of the California Transportation Plan, which will be submitted to the Legislature January 1.

The first option is one of "no build", involving the maintenance of the present transportation system with no major construction. This choice will cost California $50 billion over the next 20 years. In 1973-74, $2.6 billion in public funds was available for transportation in California.

The second alternative, "air and energy", sets a priority on the conservation of energy and the preservation of air quality. This choice involving more transportation, could cost up to $230 billion over the next two decades.

De-Emphasizing Autos

"The third possibility which my colleagues and I will consider is 'de-emphasizing autos', which includes the second alternative plus legislative action discouraging automobile use. A $10 billion investment in inter-regional air transport would would bring total for this choice to $240 billion," Chacon said.

"Equal emphasis," the fourth choice, involves a transportation system offering a maximum of ways to get from place to place. This system would cost between $80 and $173 billion over the next 20 years.

It is expected that the final plan which we will adopt will combine elements from each of these alternatives. "As your state representative I will not only have to decide the future emphasis of transportation, but I must also help in deciding, along with my fellow colleagues, who will pay the cost and who will handle the money, be it local, state or geographic area agencies," added Chacon.

"The final transportation plan will depend on the State's environmental, social and economic goals, but a most important factor will of course be money."

Naval Air Show This Year Marks 200th Birthday

The U. S. Navy's Bicentennial birthday celebration will begin at Miramar Naval Air Station with a birthday air show scheduled for the weekend of October 4. Gates will open at 9 a.m.

Headlining the air show will be the Navy's precision flying team, the Blue Angels. The A-4 Skyhawk II's will fly in a breathtaking demonstration of aerial teamwork.

The Blue Angels will execute exacting rolls, loops, changeovers and "fleur de lis" breakups at high speeds and low altitudes with minimum wing tip separation between planes.

Aviation exhibits and a flight line of present and vintage aircraft will be among the displays.

Admission is free, but limited bleacher seating costs $1.25 and special close-in parking fee is $1.

Proceeds from the show go to the Naval Air Museum, under construction in Pensacola, Florida.

Armed Robber Takes $200 from Rock Liquor

A man produced a .22 cal. blue steel rifle and demanded the contents of two cash registers at Rock Liquor, 7161 Broadway, Lemon Grove, according to Blon Larry Rhea, 53, the clerk on duty last Tuesday night about 11:45.

The robber ordered Rhea, who lives at 2843 Buena Vista, Lemon Grove to "Gimme your money. Hurry up! Both registers!!"

Rhea told sheriff's deputies that the robber, who wore a stocking mask, appeared to be in his 20's and weighed 165. He was about 5-9.

Timber wolves may soon be removed from the endangered species list.

Claims Americans Kill Karate

America is killing karate. How long will it be before karate begins killing Americans?

The recent flood of ultra-violent "martial arts" movies, made primarily in Hong Kong, have whetted appetites here for violence and competition. The ancient Eastern discipline of karate — based on the belief that life is precious — has been commercialized and transformed into tournament sport, the latest form of which is the lethal "knockout" karate.

Deaths Inevitable

George Takahashi, a fourth-degree black belt and karate instructor for 22 years, has witnessed the declining emphasis on the spiritual aspect of the art, which now emphasizes aggression and violence. Injuries and increasing and deaths are inevitable, he says.

A Los Angeles resident who lectures in Oriental languages at UCLA and instructs karate for UCLA Extension, Takahashi says karate is a self-defense art, not the combat training implied by media exposure.

"The student must realize that self defense is the preservation of your precious life," says the dapper, soft-spoken instructor, who was born here but raised in Japan.

"And to learn it, one learns how to preserve life, not just in physical encounters, but in all areas of life. In karate, everything is designed to stop the aggressor or to kill him. If the constraint, the respect for life, is not taught, the technique has been subverted and is dangerous."

Preservation of life means knowing more than kicks and blows, including when to run.

"Karate cannot fight a pistol," Takahashi says firmly, "and anyone who teaches this, teaches a lie.

Mind and Body Harmony

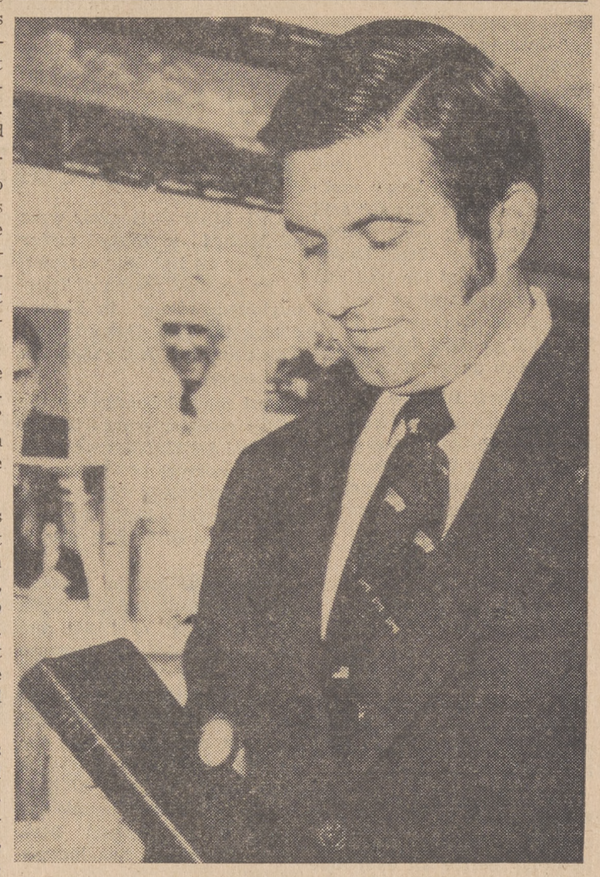
"The development of human potential involves not just the physical, but the intellectual and the awareness of your own precious life. With that awareness, you acquire the knowledge to preserve life.

"When someone attacks, which is hope never happens, the mind must be clear to perceive what must be done and the body must be in harmony to act."

Takahashi, who trains instructors at a west Los Angeles karate school, feels that too many depend on their teaching for a livelihood, taking short cuts that leave students only "technically" trained.

"If one is ready to learn an art, one must learn the precise formula. Many instructors cut here, cut there, and it becomes piecemeal. That is the danger. There is great risk to the student who becomes captive of the instructor who wants to make teams and champions for money, glory, power or fame.

"We must ask, 'Who is karate for, the weak or the strong?' I feel the strong and aggressive don't need it. It is the weak who need it. But in making tournaments and champions, someone must win and the weak become punching bags."



CLERGYMAN OF THE YEAR — The Rev. Michael Maxson, minister of the Lemon Grove Christian Church at 6970 San Miguel st., examines the bible he was awarded recently at a CalNevHa Kiwanis meeting at the Sheraton Waikiki in Honolulu.

More than 1100 Kiwanians from the California, Nevada, Hawaii District attended the special prayer breakfast sponsored by the 26,000 Kiwanis members of CalNevHa District.

Each of the 600-plus clubs was asked to submit a candidate and Mr. Maxson was chosen.

He is vice president of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club.

Faucher Becomes New Kiwanis Lt. Gov.; Jerry Heath Feted

Lemon Grove Kiwanis member, F. R. "Frenchy" Faucher, was installed as Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis Division 11 for Kiwanis year 1975-76 last week at the Sheraton Inn, San Diego.

Orien Todd, Jr. of the downtown Kiwanis Club was the installing officer.

Another honored guest at the meeting was Jerry Heath, in charge of maintenance at the Lemon Grove School District, who was honored with a plaque for his outstanding work in advising and counseling troubled youth in Lemon Grove.

Division 11 officers installed for 1975-76 were Larry Upp, Southeasten club, immediate past lieutenant governor; Mike Carlen of Lemon Grove, secretary; and Rip Reopelle of National City, lieutenant elect.

Coordinators for the 1975-76 year include Lemon Grove's Mike Maxson, spiritual aims; Duke Duggan, sponsored youth, and Jim Powers, Mt. Miguel Key Club and lieutenant governor of the division's Key Clubs.

Help is Minutes Away on Local Freeways

There's little chance of being stranded for any length of time on any of San Diego's freeways nowadays. Between regular cruising by the California Highway Patrol and the Construction Industry Freeway Patrol and Traffic Watch, the motorist doesn't stand a chance for an unassisted stay on the roadside of longer than, say 20 minutes.

The Construction Industry Freeway Patrol — they changed their name from Hard Hat Patrol this summer — is starting another year of free service designed to keep motorists out of trouble on San Diego's arterial thoroughfares.

Walt MacDonald, director of operations, reports the patrol answers from 450 to 500 calls for assistance each month. Most of the calls for help, MacDonald said, are for gasoline. Tire changes rank second, battery boosting third and others are for assorted minor emergencies. The only charge is for the cost of the gasoline.

What to Do

What to do if you are one of the unfortunate motorists who becomes stalled on the freeway?

MacDonald has some pointers: First, lift the hood of the car. That's the most important.

Then stay with your car and help should soon be on its way. Many construction firm trucks and some private automobiles are equipped with two-way radio phones. When these drivers see you they contact their own dispatchers who in turn notify the patrol of your location. The California Highway Patrol and city police also cooperate and frequently summon aid from the patrol.

If a passing motorist should stop to inquire about your trouble, ask the driver to contact the patrol. The telephone number is 295-5177.

After the patrol receives the summons, MacDonald said it should not be more than 20 minutes before help arrives, and frequently it is sooner than that.

MacDonald also advises all motorists to carry "HELP" banners in their cars. When in trouble, these can be displayed in door windows or in front or back of the automobile to attract attention. The banners, which fold neatly into glove compartment size, are available without cost at the patrol's headquarters in Mission Valley, 7801 Mission Center court, also at the office of the San Diego Building Contractors Association, 3517 Camino del Rio South. The banners carry instuctions for the best display of the distress sign when needed.

Traffic Watch

Each weekday morning and afternoon during peak hours, nine radio and television stations carry repeated spot announcements on freeway congestion, thus helping motorists who are listening to avoid traffic-clogged stretches of highway.

The morning broadcasts, from 6:30 to 8:40, are made from mobile units cruising the highways. In the afternoon, from 4 until 5:45, the exercise is repeated, although this is an Aerial Traffic Watch, the broadcast coming from an airplane which wings back and forth over the freeway network.

Stations carrying the spot announcements are KOGO, KSON, KSDO, KCBQ, KLMO, KITT, KPRI, and TV channels 10 and 39.

The Traffic Watch is a project associated with the Freeway Patrol, which is on radio call almost from dawn until dusk each weekday to assist motorists who may be stranded on the freeways.

The freeway patrol and traffic watch are funded by the Construction Industry Advancement Fund (CIAF), which recently renewed a year's contract for this service. CIAF owns the patrol trucks and leases the airplane.

Part of the financing for this service comes from the Masonry Contractors Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties. The Rock Producers Association of San Diego has also contributed to the effort.

N.H. Governor Speaker For A.I.P. Convention

William K. Shearer, of Lemon Grove, National Chairman of the American Independent Party, said this week that New Hampshire Governor Meldrin Thomson, Jr. will be principal speaker September 27-28 at A.I.P.'s National Committee at Reno.

The two day session at the Pioneer Inn in downtown Reno will also feature addresses by Howard Phillips, National Director of the Conservative Caucus, Shearer, and other A.I.P. leaders.

"Our goal," said Shearer, "is to assure voters an alternative to the Democrat and Republican presidential candidates in every state in the union."

In 1974, at its meeting in Chicago, A.I.P. adopted a resolution encouraging Alabama's Governor George C. Wallace to seek the A.I.P. nomination as he had successfully done in 1968.

Governor Wallace is definitely keeping the A.I.P. option open for 1976," Shearer said. "Governor Thomson is also considered a possible preidential candidate."

Shearer, who lives at 8158 Palm st., in Lemon Grove, chaired the A.I.P. National Committee 1968-71 and since 1973.

Work Starts on Rancho SD Units

Actual construction has now begun on two new phases in Rancho San Diego, according to Jim Woods, Rancho San Diego official.

Sweetwater Village / West Area 22, comprising 7.1 acres is being developed as a residential area for single family homes. Sweetwater (Village/ West Unit 5 contains 37.7 acres, and is designated for cluster housing and apartment sites.

Construction on the new areas is part of a more than $2.5 million contract with Metro Young Construction Company to develop new building sites in the new town community of Rancho San Diego.

A renowned attorney in the field of medical malpractice law is coming to San Diego.

More Can Obtain New Bicentennial Coins

A new marketing program to provide general circulation of Bicentennial coins was announced last week by the U.S. Treasury.

Effective immediately, a distribution and over-the-counter sales program through the nation's 42,000 financial institutions and their 73,000 facilities will spread the 40 per cent silver coins sets to a maximum number of Americans.

The program offers the nation's commercial banks, savings and loan assocaiations, mutual savings associations and credit unions an opportunity to purchase bulk orders of 50 sets and multiples thereof at $7 per set.

The savings of individual packaging and mailing are being passed on to the financial institutions who will then be able to make these sets available to their customers.

Area Homes Part of Census Housing Survey

About 400 housing units in the San Diego area will be visited this month by Bureau of the Census interviewers, the Bureau's Regional Office reports.

A survey, which began in April is being conducted in response to a need for frequent and up-to-date data on housing, considered one of the indicators of the nation's economic condition.

The Ceusus Bureau and the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) planned the survey jointly.

Reports on the survey are expected at the end of 1976. Information obtained by the Census Bureau is confidential by law and can be used only to compile statistical totals in which no person, household or housing unit can be identified.

Interviewers are local residents, locally trained for the work. Each carries an official identification card with the bearer's photograph and signature.

Mobilehome Bill Passes Senate

Legislation introduced by Assemblyman Bob Wilson (D-La Mesa) to more tightly control the mobilehome industry has been approved by the full Senate on a vote of 31 to 1. The measure, Assembly Bill 637, goes to a Conference Committee for final adjustments before being sent to Governor Brown for his signature.

Following Senate approval Wilson said, "This legislation is a major mobilehome consumer protection bill. It requires dealers to meet certain financial requisites before they can establish a business. This will help ensure the financial stability of a dealership, thereby giving more credence to warranty claims.

In the past two years more than 40 per cent of mobilehome dealers have gone out of business. Often times this has left the consumer without warranty protection."

The Wilson bill further professionalizes the industry by requiring applicants for dealer and salesman licenses to take a written examination. The examination is designed to help licensing agencies determine the applicants' ability to run a mobilehome business. The two major provisions will better protect mobilehome owners before and after the purchase of their coaches.

The bill standardizes the definition of "mobilehomes" making the definitions found in the Health and Safety Code and the Vehicle Code consistent and coordinates the state agencies responsible for regulation of the mobilehome industry."

Jewel Box Proves To Be Poor Safe

A Lemon Grove woman who kept cash in a jewel box has one less worry—her cash. It's gone!

Someone entered the home of Sigrid Gertrude Byarlay, at 7676 Burnell st., in Lemon Lemon Grove Tuesday of last week and removed $300 from the box.

Mrs. Byarlay told sheriff's deputies that she was away from home only about an hour—long enough to go to Winchell's Donuts about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the burglar entered through an open rear door.

She gave officers the name of a suspect.

Cat Vaccinations Date is Sept. 27

It'll be cat day again Saturday, September 27.

On that afternoon San Diego residents may again have their cats vaccinated against rabies at a clinic of the San Diego County Veterinary Medical Assn.

The clinic is at 7590 El Cajon blvd., La Mesa. Vaccinations will be given 2-4 p.m. Cats must be at least three months old and no pregnant cats will be vaccinated. The cost is $4 and no appointment is necessary. Usually, there is no waiting.

According to Dr. David Martin, chairman of the Rabies Committee, cats brought to the clinic must be in carriers.

The importance of vaccinating cats against rabies has generally been under-emphasized, the committee noted. While the importance of protecting the nation's dog population against rabies has long been recognized, surprisingly few cats have ever been vaccinated against this serious disease. A cat's instincts for hunting may constantly expose it to rodents, skunks, bats and other rabies vectors. Without the protection of immunization, cats can and do get the disease. Authorities agree that a program of vaccinations for all pets is the best possible protection against rabies.

Cats, as well as dogs, should be vaccinated against rabies periodically as recommended by veterinarian.

LUNCHES TO RETURN — Laurie and Guy Widner, new owners of established Lemon Grove tavern Pal's, 3521 Imperial ave. promise the reopening of the lunch and supper cuisine on September 29th. A grand opening party, from 5 until close, will celebrate the occasion and the new ownership, on September 27. The partners bring to Lemon Grove five years of restaurant experience at the former Carousel Inn in Hillcrest. The new Pal's menu features their popular food recipes for hamburgers, hot dogs and french dip. The public is welcome to the opening celebration.

Employer Gets Tax Credit For Hiring Welfare Parent

Anyone who hires a welfare recipient now may claim up to 20 percent of wages paid to such an employee as a credit against Federal income taxes.

This was announced by Martin Glick, director of the state's Employment Development Department.

"New Federal regulations, part of the tax rebate act of 1975, allow any employer, whether an individual or a commercial business, to take income tax credit equal to one-fifth of wages paid to employees who, when hired, are on welfare in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program," said Glick.

"The Federal tax credit for 1975 and 1976 is available to anyone hiring an eligible welfare recipient for full-time work. Private employers can claim a maximum of $1,000 credit per employee. Commercial firms are allowed 20 percent of the actual wage paid such employees," Glick said.

Differs from WIN

The new welfare tax credit should not be confused with the Work Incentive Program (WIN), offered since 1972 to employers of welfare recipients.

The WIN tax credit also offers a Federal income tax credit of 20 percent of wages paid to WIN trainees. But in that program employers must retain the employee for 24 months to become eligible for the credit.

Most WIN registrants could qualify under either program, with the 20 percent tax credit ensuing for the employer. The new tax credit program is less restrictive but cuts off June 30, 1976 while the WIN tax credit program has no expiration date.

Employers interested in hiring someone under either tax credit program should contact their local EDD office.

County welfare departments will be responsible for certifying to the employer, at his request, that an individual is an eligible employee for the tax credit purpose.

When he awoke the next morning his car was there but his Riverside battery worth $25 was gone.

Handy Booklet Outlines U.S. Postal Services

Most popular question asked the U.S. Post Office is whether to send letters first class or airmail. But when you're mailing a special bracelet to your sister or sending important business papers, what then?

The Postal Service has a booklet which explains their services. For a free copy of "A Consumer's Guide to Postal Services and Products" write to Consumer Information, Dept. 52, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Among the services described are.

Insured mail — insurance is available up to $200 for third class, fourth class and air parcel post containing printed matter or merchandise. Insured mail is handled as ordinary parcel post, and for items insured for more than $15, a receipt of delivery is obtained for postal files.

Something irreplaceable, or worth more than $200 should be sent registered mail — it's the safest way to ship valuables. You declare the full value of something when you mail it this way for security and insurance purposes. The registration fee is insurance protection up to $10,000 (for domestic mail only).

For an additional fee, you can ask for a return receipt, to assure that the package arrived at the proper location.
